ANNOUNCEMENT

MR. SPEAKER.—Before I adjourn the House, I would like to give a brief resume of business transacted during the Third Session.

In one of the longest duration of the sittings of 50 days commencing from 16th January 1984, the House adopted several important measures.

The Governor delivered his Address on 16th January 1984 and the Motion of Thanks to the Governor's Address was adopted on 3rd February 1984. The House debated the motion of Thanks for five days.

The redeeming feature of the current sittings was seeking of vote of confidence by the Leader of the House for the first time in the history of Karnataka Legislature.

The budget estimates for the year 1984-85 were presented to the House on 17th February 1984. For the first time after a lapse of 7 years a full-fledged budget has been voted by the House without resorting to the procedure of seeking a vote on account. The General Discussion on budget estimates took place for five days and the discussion on Demands for Grants lasted for eleven days.

During the period 1759 notices of Started Questions were received and of out them 744 were answered on the floor of the House. 641 notices of questions for written answers were received and replies to the same were laid on the Table of the House.

39 notices of Short Notice Questions were received, out of them, 22 notices were admitted and six were answered.

177 notices of calling attention to matters of Urgent Public Importance were received from Hon'ble Members and statements by the concerned Ministers were made on the floor of the House in respect of 38 notices.

Eight notices for half-an-hour discussion were received and only two of them were discussed in the House.

As many as 476 notices under Rule 334 were received and of them 417 were disposed of. Although the Government is not bound to reply to the matters raised under Rule 334, in most of the cases, statements were made by the concerned hon'ble Ministers.

Nine notices of adjournment motion were received and none of them were admitted.

18 notices for discussion for short duration were received under Rule 68 and out of them five were discussed in the House.

Seven notices regarding question of breach of privileges were received and none of them was referred to the Committee of Privileges.

During the period under review, 42 new bills were introduced and 51 bills (including some pending bills from previous session) were passed by the House. Four bills viz., the Karnataka Lokayukta Bill, 1984, the Karnataka Zilla Parishad, Taluk Panchayat Samithis, Mandal Panchayats and Nyaya Panchayats Bill, 1984, the Karnataka Education Bill 1983 and the Karnataka Municipalities (Amendment) Bill, 1984 as passed by the Assembly and as amended by the Legislative Council were agreed to by the Legislative Assembly. I am happy to add that this heavy scheduled work of Legislative Assembly has been completed during the budget session.

The House transacted non-official business for one day and out of 25 resolutions received only one was moved and the discussion on the same was inconclusive.

223 papers were laid on the Table of the House.

Fourteen petitions were presented to the House during the period.

Three reports of the Committee on Public Accounts, two reports of the Committee on the welfare of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes, three reports of the Committee on Public Undertakings, one reports of the Committee on Government Assurances, two reports of the Committee on Estimates, one report of the Committee on the Welfare of Backward Classes, and one report of the Special Committee of Legislators were presented to the House. Two reports of the Joint Select Committees were also presented to the House.

One official resolution regarding revision settlement report was adopted by the House in respect of Raichur and Gangavathi Zones.

Motions for election to various committees were moved and the Committees were reconstituted as per the agreed list furnished by the Leaders of Parties.

As could be seen, the business transacted by the House is quite considerable and heavy. The House had to transact business, one some days from morning till late in the night. I am very happy to inform that there was practically no disorder in the House and but for the co-operation of all the sections of the House, smooth functioning would not have ensured.

In spite of heavy schedule of business in the House the Hon'ble Members found time for relaxation for two days, in sports and cultural activities, in connection with the Legislators Day Celebrations held on 30th and 31st March, 1984.

I must express my sincere thanks to the Leader of the House, Leader of the Opposition, Hon'ble Ministers, Leaders of all the Parties and the hon'ble members for their kind co-operation. I also express my thanks to members of the Press for their co-operation. I think you all Now the House stands adjourned sine die.

The House adjourned at Forty Five minutes past Six of the Clock on Thursday the 12th April 1984 sine die)
